

A World of Languages at Your Fingertips

Communicaid

Communicaid is Europe's leading Culture and Communication Skills Consultancy. We enable our clients to create long-lasting, profitable international relationships by constructing cultural bridges that enhance understanding and build trust.

Our clients include many of the world's leading companies, governments and international institutions.

Experts in World Languages

With an unrivalled team of more than 600 language trainers delivering training in over 65 languages and dialects per year, Communicaid is uniquely placed to meet the language needs of all corporate and public sector organisations around the world.

We have twenty years' experience of collaborating with our clients to provide innovative, flexible and cost-effective language courses. Furthermore, our team of dual-qualified trainers, who combine professional expertise with extensive training experience, will ensure that your language course meets your requirements.

So, whether you need beginner level French or specialist legal English, Communicaid is your language training partner of choice.

Training available via the following platforms:

- Face-to-face
- eTraining
- Virtual

Approach

Our tailor-made programmes allow you to benefit from a course that truly meets your needs. Focusing on your language and communication skills, the content of each programme is personalised for your profession, job function and skill areas. This allows us to offer you targeted training on the areas that you require – so whether you require fluency development or wish to build your range of specialist vocabulary, Communicaid will design a unique programme for you..

Courses Available Worldwide

We work with clients across the globe and have an international presence to meet your worldwide requirements. In addition to delivering courses at our centres in London, Brussels, Paris, Frankfurt and New York, we enjoy global contracts with many leading organisations where we deliver our programmes in multiple city locations across the world.

Each programme is designed with your unique requirements in mind and this includes the most appropriate venue for you and your organisation.
